In 1910 at least three of these girls attended the second grade of school in the present family room of this church. This was after the schoolhouse had burned. Catharine Aylesworth, of Eldora, was the teacher. Some evenings these girls listened to Lyceum numbers in the Sanctuary. On wintry nights the horses with their straw laden bobsleds were tied nearby in an empty lot to await their passengers. This space is occupied in 1983 by the Vaux Welding Shop.
